

TRICK RIDER FOR A DAY

Saturday April 28, 2012

9 a.m. Harmony Horsemanship Center
473 Golf Course Road Altoona, PA (Sinking Valley)

Come join Texas native Austin Anderson at Harmony Horsemanship Center as he makes a special appearance in PA and shows you what it takes to be a trick rider.

Learn about:

- trick riding history
- proper equipment and safety
- foundation principles
- Four basic trick riding maneuvers
- fender trick

This training helps with balance and posture while riding in all disciplines.

Horses and equipment provided.

Wear athletic sports shoes and nonrestrictive clothing.

$175.00

Please complete registration form and mail in by March 20. $20 early bird discount if registration is received by February 20. Auditors are welcome for $50 per day.

Morning and afternoon sessions with a lunch break.

Lunch will be available for purchase.

About Austin

Austin Anderson is a third generation entertainer and 2007 Reserve Men's Champion Trick Rider. Austin has performed since the age of four at venues such as Dressage at Devon, Minnesota State Fair, Virginia State Fair, and the Canadian National Exhibition. He is backed by The Texas White Horse Ranch, the leader in equine entertainment for over 40 years.

For details on how to reserve your spot call
(814) 201-0277

or email wpletcher@gmail.com

Harmony Horsemanship Center

a place where horses
and humans enrich lives